Controlling Conflicts & Challenging situations

Course code: ML93 From: 05-10-2026 Venue: London - Course Fees: 5000 £

Introduction

One of the most misunderstood, time-consuming, and poorly handled leadership responsibilities is conflict and challenge management.

Most leaders, managers, and supervisors view 'conflict' negatively. However, if it is used and managed well and occurs in high-trust cultures, conflict can be a powerful source of sustainable competitive advantage.

This course, Managing Conflicts, and Difficult Situations were created to assist leaders and managers in controlling and reducing negative conflict, building high-trust organizational cultures, and dealing proactively with difficult situations using highly effective techniques.

The program incorporates the most recent research in the fields of Emotional Intelligence (EI), neuroscience, psychology, personality research, and cutting-edge communication and persuasion techniques.

This course will focus on:

- Your natural personality preferences for thinking, feeling, speaking, and behaving may trigger conflict or help to manage it
- The default conflict-management strategies people use – both helpful and unhelpful
- The nature, types, and causes of conflict and difficulty – inter-personal and strategic
- Highly effective strategic and verbal techniques to address conflict and difficulties at both the individual and organizational level
- How to structure your meetings, presentations, and communications to reduce negative conflict and encourage healthy debate

Course Objectives of Controlling Conflicts & Challenging situations

This course is designed to help you to:

- Identify the common types and sources of conflict in your workplace
- Appreciate your own and others' personality profiles and preferred conflict approaches
- Understand the predictable emotional triggers and responses to conflict
- Differentiate between assertive, passive, and aggressive behaviors
- Deal with difficult people and situations using a large range of powerful techniques

Course Methodology of Controlling Conflicts & Challenging situations

This highly interactive approach approaches to learning, including experiential group activities, individual exercises, mini-case studies, role plays, targeted videos, and relevant discussions. A key part of the learning process is the sharing of different experiences as well as experimenting with the novel and sometimes challenging practical techniques. A Personality / Social Styles profile will be used to give you an insight into how your own, and others, personalities can contribute to creating or resolving conflicts. In addition, a Thomas Kilmann Conflict Mode type profile will reveal your default conflict-management strategy and how you can utilize this self-knowledge to your advantage.

Organizational Impact of Controlling Conflicts & Challenging situations

By attending this course and applying the insights, your organization will benefit from:

- Having a high-trust culture of openness, integrity, and certainty
- Stronger working relationships, greater collaboration, and discretionary effort
- Enhanced ability of employees to resolve their problems and difficulties so avoiding extended disruptions
- Reduced workplace stress and tension that results in improved morale
- Constructive resolution of conflicts and challenges
- Higher levels of organizational productivity

Personal Impact of Controlling Conflicts & Challenging situations

An AMA survey by Thomas & Schmidt found that managers spend between 18-26% of their time dealing with conflicts; that can amount to 10 hours of your valuable time per week! As a leader, manager, or supervisor, this training seminar will help you to:

- Recognize the warning signs of conflict early on
- Address the issues quickly and effectively
- Increase the overall productivity of your team or department
- Focus on more important strategic and operational matters
- Master a skill set that's essential in more senior roles
- Gain credibility in the eyes of senior management

Target Audience of Controlling Conflicts & Challenging situations

This course is suitable for a wide range of Ambitious Professionals, but will greatly benefit:

- Managers and Team Leaders
- Leaders & Supervisors who need to take charge of and resolve conflicts or difficult situations that could hurt performance, effectiveness, and relationships

- Junior / Middle Managers new to their role, or with experience but little previous training
